Install scripts in the InDesign script panel. Scripts can be installed in InDesign in two places: in the application folder and in the custom script folder. These folders, like many other application folders, can be accessed from the File menu. If the script is on your hard drive, you can copy it to any other location. However, scenarios created in other applications cannot be copied. If the script is located in the script folder, then it can be located in any folder on the hard drive, except for the App folder. If the script is in the application folder, then it can only be in the application folder and also in the scripts folder. fffad4f19a
