Just go to SketchUp License Center and deactivate the license. You can get it reactivated at the same place by unchecking deactivate. A: To answer this, there are Activate Sketchup pro 2017 Activate Sketchup pro 2017, Activate Sketchup pro 2017, activating a sketchup pro 2017 license activating a sketchup pro license activating a sketchup license Sketchup pro 2017 activation code I tried several ways, each time I had prompt invalid code / license and or not well suited for my purpose. Also, I have not time to share my own mistake. How to resolve this problem? (There is no chance that I made a mistake). PS: I am using Windows 7. A: There is a client key stored in the config.settings file of your installed Sketchup. It can be either a public or private key. The client ID is retrieved from the registry key HKLM\Software\Google\Setchup\14. I guess you entered the wrong key here. Check the registry value under Google\Setchup14\Client ID. If there is no client ID, check your "Welcome to SketchUp" dialog that you opened before with "Help" -> "Welcome to SketchUp". You should have received a dialog where you can enter the client ID and the keystore password. After 9 long years of waiting and hoping, we finally have a release date for the remake of Urotsukidōji. Since this is a remake with a new director, we'll have to wait a little longer to hear his thoughts on the series. After all, we're still waiting on a 3rd season of Gintama, so that makes me wonder if this will be the first of a new Gintama and Resident Evil movies. Advertisement.
