Description: Avantika Malhotra is a young, unmarried girl, who lives with her elderly grandfather, a retired businessman, along with his nieces, Pari, Varalakshmi and Aditi. Her grandfather is wealthy and is a strict guardian. Avantika is the only child in her family, and also her mother's pride and joy. Her mother took the identity of an unknown girl, and died leaving her daughter alone. Her grandfather had some secret talks with a few police officers, and Avantika is taken to a lawyer who says that he can take her from the grandfather's custody and she will be treated as a ward of the court. Avantika is taken to the lawyer, but he does not take her from her grandfather's custody. She is soon adopted as a daughter by the lawyer, and he changes his will and gives her a family to call her own. Avantika is very happy to see that her grandfather is overjoyed to see his granddaughter. The lawyer, who is her step-father, dies after a few years. Avantika falls in love with Ravish (Amit Sadh), but her grandfather has a different opinion. Avantika does not agree to this, and she and her grandfather decide to elope. They go to meet a lawyer who is her real father. Avantika is happy to find out that her real father is a police officer. He tells her that she is actually a rich girl.
