wrong with me and also request to AVG it is easy to fix. Please read the below points carefully. I have paid for perpetual licence. If you have paid for perpetual licence and the key has expired then instead of using the working AVG key that you have paid for, use a FREE version AVG for 90 days and change the AVG key with a new one after 90 days on your PC. It will work for 90 days more. Later after 90 days you will be to pay for perpetual licence again if you want to continue using it. Please note that you are going to have free of charge 90 days in AVG but unfortunately you can't renew the expired AVG registration forever. AVG registration is going to expire on the date and time will be notified to you. AVG did not provide you the mandatory all-time working keys to renew the expired perpetual licence and AVG is not contacting you to provide you the renewals, if you are getting contact from AVG then it means that your key did not expired on their own. AVG does not have your all-time working key. The reason behind this is AVG's policy is that it is not able to see the computers system's unique key on an ongoing basis and if they get lots of
