Q: Ordering of key/value pairs in excel sheets I have two excel sheets with key and values. In the first excel sheet, the first row is the Key and rest of the rows have the values. My problem is that the value are not in proper order(I have been using excel key as header and sorting) but there are some values in first excel sheet which should come after first row. For e.g., in the first excel sheet, the first row is key, next row is price. if i sort on price, the value which should come under price is actually in the next row which is cost. Also, some keys are repeated in the first excel sheet. I want the key values to be in first sheet and the corresponding value to come under each key in the second sheet. How should I do this? Please help me

A: Use this code.

Then'If there was a header
